Question Two:

Read the text carefully and then answer the following questions. Your answers should be based on the text.

How could a young English woman with no scientific training possibly make contact with a group of wild chimpanzees? At first, the animals ran away as soon as they saw her. But maybe because she knew very little about these wild animals, it is highly likely that her calmness gained their trust. It was only later that Jane would learn how dangerous they could be. She saw that different groups of chimpanzees had battles in which they tried to wipe out the rival group. But before this, her studies showed her that the chimpanzees could clearly communicate, allowing them to groom and help each other, share food as well as have arguments. Jane pointed out that the animals couldn't communicate using language like people, but they could communicate by touch and sound. Amazingly, she also realized they could use sign language.

At this time, people believed that only humans could use tools, but Jane watched chimpanzees using sticks to take ants from a tree, and then used the sticks to feed the ants to their young. Through her work, Jane spelled out to the scientific community for the first time that animals, too, could use tools. Jane went on to write a number of books about her work. As well as explaining chimpanzees' highly developed social behaviour, she taught us that they are omnivores. In 2002, she became a UN Messenger for Peace.

1. Quote the sentence which indicates that first reaction of the chimpanzees.
2. The text states the two main discoveries that Jane made.
3. Jane noticed that chimpanzees could communicate so that they are able to do many things. Write down three of them.
4. Why were the battles between the different groups of chimpanzees considered dangerous for Jane?
5. What does the underlined pronoun refer to?
6. Find a word in the text which means a living being that eats plants and animals.
7. Communicating regularly with people we care about is important. Think of this statement, and in two sentences, write down your point of view.

Question Two:

Write an analytical essay on the following

- AI is supposed to help people in many aspects of life. Write an analytical essay discussing the advantages of AI as well as some ways to control its dangerous impacts.
